VOL. 101 NO. 41 | CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY TEXAS, THURSDAY JANUARY 5, 1961 | 10 Pages Today

Wife, Daughter Saved . . .

Builder Suffocates In Home

Stanley Hughes, 45, Cameron contractor, died of carbon monoxide asphyxiation about 8:30 a. m. Tuesday at his Marlow Community home, 3½ miles east of Cameron on Hanover Rd.

Mrs. Hughes, his wife, and daughter, Marilyn, a senior at Yoe High School, were saved from the same fate by emergency efforts at St. Edward's Hospital.

The family of three was found in their beds about 8:30 a. m. Tuesday morning by two workmen who went to the contractor's home after waiting for him at his office in Cameron.

Joe Robinson and Roy Wohleb, both of Cameron, failed to get an answer after knocking at the Hughes' door, then entered the home to find the three unconscious.

The men opened windows and doors throughout the house and called for emergency aid. Ambulances rushed to the scene.

Hughes failed to respond to emergency resusitation efforts and did not gain consciousness.

Mrs. Hughes and her daughter were rushed to St. Edward's Hospital where doctors revived them both.

One medical official attributed the quick judgment of Ed Laywell of Marek - Burns Funeral Home in rushing Mrs. Hughes and the daughter by ambulance to the hospital in saving their lives.

Hospital officials said Wednesday that both Mrs. Hughes and Marilyn were released to their home.

Sheriff Carl Black said that Deputy Douglas Barron rushed to the scene.

Black said cause of the carbon monoxide in the house was an open back on the central heating unit which caused fumes to enter the house rather than escape through an outside flue.

Experts Tuesday determined the presence of gas in the house and located the open back on the heating system, Black said.

Jan. 14 Date For Event

Milam Stock Show To Have 3 Groups In Annual Meet

The annual Milam County Junior Livestock Show will be held Saturday January 14 in Cameron, Chamber Manager Jack DuBois announced this week.

The show will be held on the lot adjacent to McLane Company, Wholesale Grocers, on the Courthouse Square.

About $500 in cash prizes will go to junior livestock growers in three divisions -- swine, beef and dairy cattle, according to Coleman Duncum, chairman of the Cameron Chamber livestock committee.

Highlight of the program will be the showing of about 100 entries of prize livestock in a day-long contest that will include members of county FFA and 4-H Club boys and girls.

John S. Batte, livestock show chairman, said the prize money will be divided among winners in all divisions. Judges from Texas A & M, College Station, will review the entries and judge them on the point system.

The livestock show will be on the east side of the Square. Judging will begin at noon continuing through the day.

An amateur judging contest will be held before official judging begins, Batte said.

Besides cash prizes, blue, white and red ribbons will be awarded winners.

The livestock committee and Cameron Chamber of Commerce are expecting a large turnout to see the junior livestock event, Duncum added.

'61 MOD Opens With Kickoff For Chairmen

The 1961 March of Dimes got off to a good start Thursday night with the kick - off dinner at the Texan Cafe. About 20 workers from various communities over the county were present for the organizational meeting.

Max McClaren, county drive chairman, welcomed and introduced the community leaders. Each worker presented ideas and activities which they felt would be a good means of raising funds for the current drive.

Some of the chairmen plan to have 42 parties, chili suppers, basketball games, style shows, coffees, bucket brigade, bowling contests and special events. The Mothers March will be held Monday night, January 30. The exact hour will be announced later.

Mrs. James Kahler is serving as treasurer for the 1961 drive. She has been active in MOD work for a number of years.

Mrs. Evelyn Burke will be drive secretary. She is secretary at the Chamber of Commerce.

All MOD donations or contributions are to be taken or sent to the March of Dimes, Cameron, Texas, in care of the Chamber of Commerce Office.

Supplies may be picked up at the office of Max McClaren, at the Ben Milam School. Most of the community leaders got their supplies Thursday night, but a few have not taken care of this procedure. Workers are urged to get these supplies as soon as possible.

$636,010 Total

Permits Told

Cameron's million-dollar building program in 1960 actually saw about $800,000 worth of construction begun in the calendar year.

A review of building permits during the past year showed construction totaling $636,010, but did not include the enlarged Cameron Bowling Lanes, which are just outside of city limits, and the proposed supermarket announced last fall by A. J. Mondrik.

All of these projects would put Cameron's total over the million mark.

City Secretary John Andres released the following breakdown:

New Homes — 16 Permits	$102,450.
Repair Homes — 7 Permits	2,475.
Enlarge Homes — 14 Permits	38,385.
Remodel Homes — 6 Permits	1,950.
New Commercial — 6 Permits	43,400.
Repair & Remodel — 7 Permits	13,350.
New Churches — 1 Permit	139,000.

'OI' With F. M. L. 101

We read in the Cameron Chamber's "Action" this week about an editorial in the Beaumont Journal praising Cameron's successful building program.

Now in the vernacular, "That's a fur piece from I'il old Cameron."

The co-operative building program started in July, 1959, with Cameron banks putting forth $200,000 for business improvement loans and local building firms offering low cost services on the work.

The resulting interest in business improvement produced an indepedent yet co-operative effort that has built and remodeled many of the stores and institutions in Cameron in 1960.

101 — 101 — 101

This is the news Beaumont residents (city of more than 100,900) read about Cameron.

And this is the story that has appeared in column comments in the Dallas Morning News, and various newspapers beyond the Central Texas region.

Cameron can be proud of this kind of public relations and this record. Because, north, south, east and west of here Texans are hearing about Cameron's efforts and improvements.

Daily newspapers 250 miles from a small city are not in the habit of devoting editorial space to that small city unless there is much merit in its story. And we are happy to read of this recognition.

101 — 101 — 101

This is the kind of recognition that some large cities would pay advertising agencies plenty of boodle to get in the nation's press.

Of course Cameron is not getting it for nothing, no sir. There's a lot of people doing lots of work, both collectively and individually, to write this story. And more join in every day.

But it's a story that the press of Texas is picking up and repeating.

City Area Draws 45-Inch '60 Rain

A 45.58 - inch rainfall in 1960 served notice that ground moisture was the highest in years in Milam County.

Alvin Hefft, Cameron water superintendent and official weatherman for the city, reported the record post - drouth rainfall despite arid months of May and September, 1960.

October was the "month of plenty" with 9.11 inches while May recorded only .63 of an inch and September .86 of an inch.

Rainfall for 1960 exceeded total 1959 precipitation in Cameron and vicinity by 15.64 inches. The 1959 total rainfall was 29.94 inches. Annual rainfall average for Cameron is 35.48.

Rainfall by the month in 1960 was:

January	1.40
February	2.97
March	1.26
April	5.28
May	.63
June	8.63
July	1.11
August	3.42
September	.86
October	9.11
November	4.92
December	5.99

Result of the heavy, late 1960 rains was green lawns at some Cameron homes, wet fields that kept winter plowing to a mimimum and flowers blooming even in early January.

Some cotton remains in the fields since growers were unable to get it out of wet bottomlands. A number of Little River and Brazos River farmers have been unable to claim Cotton crops from their wet fields.

A good supply of water is stored in tanks at many Milam County farms.

School Announces Pupil Census Drive During January

Cameron School Supt. Earl Knebel has announced that the annual school census is being compiled during January for all school - age children living in the Cameron Independent District.

Census cards will be sent home with the oldest child in each family. Supt. Knebel said it is important that each child's name and birth date appear accurately on this card.

He asked that parents call the school office, OX 7-3512, if your child or children do not bring a census card home.

For children who will be 6 before September 1 and who do not have older brothers or sisters in school, Knebel asked that parents go to the office of either Principal Max McClaren, Ben Milam School, or Principal Albert C. Whiteside, O. J. Thomas School, for completion of the census cards.

Football Banquet To Be Held Saturday

The annual Cameron Football Banquet honoring all high school and junior high players will be held Saturday night, January 7, at the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Tickets for the banquet are available through quarterback club members and high school coaches for two dollars each.

The quarterback Club trophy and football jackets will be presented to the players. John Henderson Jr., a local lawyer, will serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Improvements Still Underway In City

Construction and remodeling work continued at two sites this week.

Workmen erected steel girders and framework at the First Baptist Church. And workmen finished construction at the Citizens National Bank drive - in facility.

Offices on the second floor of the First National Bank Building have been redecorated, including the lowering of ceilings, tile floors and repainting in hallways.

And work continued on the Newton Memorial Hospital with concrete pillers and framework in place.

School Tax Office Moved To AHS Site

New Judge, County Attorney

Milam Officers Take Office

A new county attorney and district judge led the group of 14 new Milam County and District officers taking the oath of office at the District Courtroom Sunday.

District Clerk Grady Allen administered the oaths of office in brief ceremonies 2:30 p. m.

W. C. Wallace, former city judge and Jack Prescott, a Cameron attorney, took oaths of office as new Milam District judge and county attorney respectively.

Incumbents Sheriff Carl Black, Tax Assessor Valter White, Commissioners C. S. Raney and Byron Neal all were sworn in for new four - year terms of office.

New faces among eight constables taking the oath of office were Marshall Terry, of Cameron and J. A. Taylor, of Precinct 6.

Incumbent constables beginning terms of office were: Gilford Thweatt, Precinct 2; F. B. Burks, Precinct 3; Ollie Cook, Precinct 4; George Gamble, Precinct 5; Herman Dorner, Precinct 7; and P. L. Paris, Precinct 8.

Wallace assumes the bench of the Milam 20th Judicial District. He succeeds O. D. Graham, Cameron, who did not seek re - election after 10 years service as district judge here.

A native of Cameron, Wallace has practiced law in Cameron since graduation from Harvard Law School except for terms of service in U. S. Army Intelligence during World War II and the Korean War. He was city judge until January 1 and was succeeded in that office by John Henderson, a Cameron lawyer.

White, Sheriff Black, Raney and Neal all returned to new four-year terms.

Raney is Precinct 1 commissioner, And Neal is commissioner of Precinct 3, Rockdale. All four office holders have served in their posts since before 1950.

Van Sweet Leads College Hoopsters

Special To The Herald

STOCKTON, Calif., — Generally speaking, Californians aren't mightily impressed with the "Made in Texas' labels plastered on the Lone Star state products, but around Central California there's a Texas product they are impressed with and that's College of the Pacific's basketball coach M. T. "Van" Sweet.

The Cameron, Texas, native has created a raft of followers in the nine years he has been with the Pacific Tigers. Although he has never won a league championship for the Stockton fans, most of the followers realize that the northern California college competes on a limited basis while playing such powerhouse national cage powers as Santa Clara, University of San Francisco and St. Mary's.

But even with the limited talent available, Sweet has raised the level of competition at Pacific to a startling degree since he took over the head reins.

Under Van's guidance the Tigers have blossomed out with some fancy intersectional schedules in the past few years. This year he brings his squad into Texas to do battle with Texas A&M January 30 and Houston January 31, also meeting New Mexico State on the southwest swing.

After graduating from Yoe High School in Cameron, Van went on to star at Baylor University. He is the son of W. E. Sweet of Ben Arnold. His sisters, Mrs. A. T. Swanzy and Mrs. Leland Burnett are also Milam County resident.

Following his stint with the Bears, Van took over as head man of the Baylor club in 1945 when his former coach was called into service. After one season with the Southwest Conference school as the league's most youthful coach, Coach Sweet spent the remainder of the war years as a Naval officer.

He came to Stockton in 1947 as cage coach at Stockton College, bringing the Mustangs to prominence in Northern California Junior College circles.

Although most so-called "experts" rate the Pacific club as one of Van's weakest since taking over the Tigers, none of his fans are betting against him — they have seen him pull miracles out of the hat before.

Youngsters Should Be Taught How To Use Firearms

Christmas is a time when hundreds of youngsters are first introduced to firearms. Whether it be with Dad's own rifle on that first deer hunt, or when Santa leaves one under the Christmas tree isn't important.

"The important thing to remember", warns the director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission, "is that he's a novice when it comes to handling firearms.

"Take him out where he can fire the rifle and really get acquainted with it. Make certain that he knows how each part of his new instrument works. Point out some safety factors that he should never overlook.

"Most youngsters are more than willing to listen and learn how to become a safety - conscious hunter. But it's up to Dad to give him this information and help him take those first few steps in the right direction.

"There's nothing wrong with a boy, or a girl, getting a rifle or shotgun all gift wrapped on that joyous night. Just make certain that he or she knows how to use it safely before going into the field", suggests the director.

1960 Sports Picture Improvement Over 1958 - 59 Seasons

Looking back in 1960 is looking back on a year of advancement and progress in the local sports world.

The construction of an eight lane bowling alley and a little league bseball field highlight noted improvements made by Cameronites.

The 1960 footballers, led by Coach Billy Bates, rated as champs in Dictrict 19AA and a competitive track team, brought more attention to the cider squad to head the list of school activities.

Here is a month by month look at the past year.

January — the resignation of Yoeman head football coach, Jim Speer and school superintendent Wiley Loughmiller, sent the Cameron School Board in search of a new administration for the 1960-61 year. Speer's contract did not expire until the end of the spring semester.

Cameron's CYO volleyballers won first place in a tournament here on the 17; the Little League baseball officials reported 900 dollars needed to complete construction of a new field. The Yoemen roundballers recorded a 2-2 mark during the month; Coca-Cola was crowned winner of the men's bowling, lead with a 20-8 record.

February — 18AA coaches, including Cameron's Jim Speer, met and arranged a 1960 baseball season schedule. Rosebud did not field a team, it was announced. The Red Heads, a pro women's basketball team played Cameron's All-Stars in a March of Dimes benefit game; By the middle of Feburary, Jerry Hopkins completed his first year at the reins of Yoe's basketball team with a 6-16 season. David Barkemeyer was high point man with 334.

March — The Cameron Relays, held on the 19 saw Cameron finish third in a field of 17 contestants. Steve Malone, Yoe sophomore speedster, was high point man — the first time in the meets history a Cameron student had received the award. Taylor won the meet with Waco's University High coming in second. Max Treadwell, baseball coach, released the spring baseball schedule. Leon Ernest won Top honors at Little River Drag Strip, winning F and E classes in his 49 Plymouth.

April — Billy Bates was named head coach at Yoe High, to replace Jim Speer. Bates, 28 was formerly head coach at George West. The Yoemen placed first in the Rockdale Relays. Malone again was the high point man. Yoemen lost their first district baseball game — a 1-0 thriller to the Hearne Eagles.

May — Jack Larrimore was named head basketball coach and assistant to Billy Bates on the gridiron at Yoe High. Billy Rae Dickey was also named as assistant coach; he resigned a position a few days later.

Joe Humplik was voted the most athletic boy by his classmates — the seniors — at Yoe High. Jeannette Richeter received the honor as the most athletic girl by her classmates.

June -- A full house at Cameron's Little League Field greeted the enthusiastic youngsters for their first game of the year. The Cameron Public Swimming pool opened under the management of Ray Green and Make McDermott, Jr. Construction continued on Cameron's eight lane bowling alley.

July -- Cameron's baseball field was dedicated and named "Cameron Field" previous to an all-star game. League President Bassel Wilson made a short speech at the ceremonies. Two contests between league all - stars and league officials were played during the month.

August -- Football was the big word in the sports department as Billy Bates and his assistants were preparing for the coming season. Twelve returning lettermen graced the Yoe field. Workouts started two weeks prior to school opening. The first scheduled tilt was in West.

September - The fighting Yoemen finished the month with a 2-2 record. They lost their first game with West to the tune of 26 - 18. The next week they were over at Rosebud where they took the Panthers by a 25 - 0 score. Every Yoeman on the team was in action in this game. The Yoemen trampled Rogers with a 40 - 0 win. The following week Elgin upset the Yoemen 20 - 6.

October - The Yoemen upset the Georgetown Eagles 28 - 21; lost to Taylor 34-6 and won over Caldwell 30 - 21 in the month's gridiron contests. Ed Lierman was pacing Cameron in the backfield.

November - Cameron wrapped up their football season as district champs, with Rockdale and A & M Consolidated. The last three games saw the Yoemen win over Hearne 20 - 18, drop Rockdale 14 - 6 and lost to A & M Consolidated 44 - 6.

December - Jack Larimore got his basketball program underway and finished third in the Marlin tournament. Ernest Bayer, Chris Gay, Carol Fikes and Bret Shumate were named to the 19AA all-district football squad.

Pine Seedings Now Available

J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Pine Seedling applications are available at the county agents office. Questions are asked how to go about getting pine seedlings for planting. Pine seedlings are to be ordered from the Texas Forest Service with headquarters at College Station, Texas. An application blank is available with prices, recommendations and instructions included.

It is recommended that seedlings be picked up at a Texas Forest Service Nursary by the purchaser or his representative. Shiped by public transportation will be made by motor freight unless specified instructions are given to ship by railway express. The weight of a bale of 2,000 seedlings is approximately 100 lbs. Express charges are about $2,00 per thousand seedlings. Seedling prices range from $5.50 to 6.50 per thousand.

In so far as possible, seedlings will be made available to each applicant from the nursery nearest the county in which the seedlings are to be placed.

The recommended spacing for pine planting on the average site is six feet by eight feet. This requires 900 seedlings to the acre. Pine tree growth is better adapted to the sandy soils. It is recommended that pine seedlings be planted during January or early Feburary. The seedlings will need some protection from livestock, insects, (cut ants), etc.

Every individual should feel a responsibility toward the economy of the county. A major renewable resource, supported by the science of modern forestry, wood offers the availability and abundance to satisfy the nation's ever growing needs for many products lumber, paper building materials chemicals, furniture and cloth, all dedicated to improving the lives of our people. Wood is made into 10,000 different products, and many of these products are manufactured in Texas.

Texas timberlands are already supplying the raw materials for wood using industries that add nearly $600,000,000 annually to the economy of the State, and directly employ over 40,000 Texans. In the fore-seeable future many acres of our present unproductive land will be put to some economic use. Why not start now in Milam county?

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sweet and Billy returned to their home in Nordheim after spending the holidays here and in Cameron.

Space Age Pioneer

For his ventures into space, tomorrow's astronaut owes thanks to a great American inventor born 100 years ago Oct. 12.—Dr. Elmer A. Sperry.

Dr. Sperry took the gyroscope—til then a toy for children and mathematicians — and put it to work for man, so now it guides his journeys under the sea and into space. Engineers and scientists rank him second in importance only to Edison.

Dr. Sperry developed the first gyro-compass for use on the U.S.S. Delaware in 1911; worked out a robot helmsman; launched the first guided missile; developed a gun fire control system used by the entire U. S. fleet in World War I; and worked out the gyro turn indicator, the directional gyro and the gyro horizon, which form the nucleus of modern flight control instruments.

Further applications of his gyroscope form the basis for inertial navigation systems used by nuclear submarines and by rockets into space. Dr. Sperry was a Yankee inventor whose work will live long after him.

City Heading For Better Year . . .

It would be unwise to look back at one of Cameron's busiest post-war building years and predict a wonder of improvements for 1961.

But it would be wise to expect better things for a county seat town and county which made long strides toward growth in 1960.

We can look about us, at other towns of similar size throughout the wide Central Texas area. And with a pride based on accomplishment we can project 1960's building efforts into a more prosperous year for farmers and further growth for Cameron.

Established as community interest builders in the past two years have been recreation facilities, a growing Western Week, business improvements and definitive developments in city government.

As a Dallas bank executive-economist told a capacity Chamber audience two years ago, Cameron is (was) on the turning point in terms of size for growth and development. Since that speech early in 1959, Cameron has done as much toward proving its potential as any city in a wide, wide state. And without the influx of a new payroll.

Cameron's stability and diversity of economy and know how have been the basis for the surge of building in 1960. It is clearly a matter of understanding the necessities and doing the job with aplomb.

The developments and improvements, known well by people in this county and surrounding area, will be additional cause for growth and confidence. And with some smaller or even equal size communities in Central Texas lacking this zest, Cameron has moved more and more to the front line of small cities bearing the credentials for growth.

Competition has been keen for industry in the past few years. Cities bid against one another for a payroll situation. But the ones that count come into an area that meets basic needs, not only for short-termed incentive, but for long-term livability.

Milam's county seat will not nor cannot rest on these laurels. Cameron can use further street improvement and drainage improvement, now underway. She can use a full-time library. But now that ball parks and churches and property improvement have become widespread fact, Cameron will get the things she needs.

There is a positive attitude that prevails in this city, an attitude that has kept Cameron on the move. A lot of towns of our age have let the dust of time settle and cake and finally entomb them. Cameron has not.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Both Man And Insects Will Stay Around, Despite The Big Odds

Dear editar:

Here 1961 is barely underway and already the experts are predicting mournful things for the new year.

For example, according to an article I read last night in a section of a newspaper I had left over after I got through wrapping some Christmas presents in the rest of it, the world now has enough atomic bombs to wipe itself out four or five times. The United States has 50,000 more atomic bombing ability now than it had when it dropped that first bomb on Hiroshima. Russia has an untold amount of the things. France set off its first bombs just the other day, England has quite a few bombs it borrowed from us, Red China is expected to have the bomb beforelong and possibly five or six other countries.

One expect added that sooner or later, some of these bombs are going off, and not for practice and when some go off, a lot more will follow. He said the human race couldn't stand it.

Well, I'm not going to predict the future of the world, not when I can't even predict the future of this Johnson grass farm for longer than three months at a time, although whatever confidence I have is based on the assumption the world is better off than this place, yet I don't share the gloom of this expert.

You take insects, for example, I'm not sure that science will support me when I say people are as smart as insects, but they may be, and if they are, I believe they'll survive. What I mean is, man has been fighting insects for years and if the insects could read, they'd find out that man now has enough insecticides stockpiled to wipe out all of them, but if the insect population is any less today then it was 50 years ago, I can't tell it. The more you fight them, the stronger they come back.

On the other hand, man may not be as smart as the insects, and with all those atom bombs stockpiled, somebody better keep his fingers crossed.

None the less, I predict me and the Cameron Herald both will be on hand a year from now, or at lease one of us, and a fifty-fifty chance is all anybody can ask.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Forecasters Look To 1961

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Forecasters are fond of saying, "That which is going to happen has already begun."

If so, the first year of the new decade, 1960, was strewn with weathervanes to point the course of Texas in the next nine years.

Among major Texas events in the opening year of the sixties were these:

1. PARTY PRIMARIES were held in May and June, two months earlier. New dates ended old traditions, like announcing wi - th the dogwood, campaigning in the heat. For the first time in years, challengers toppled two incumbents from statewide office, a fact that's bound to encourage future activity from young men "waiting in the wings."

2. DEMOCRATIC CONVEN - TIONS, though temptuous as always, were held in control by the joint leadership of Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Johnson won near - unanimous backing for his presidential bid at the June state convention an event which marked the end of the left-wing DOT. After the national convention in July, dissension arose in the other wing. Many conservative Democrats bucked at supporting Standard - bearer John Kennedy and the liberal national platform. Enough became "Texans for Nixon" o make Texas a "doubtful state." Scars and divisions of 1960 will inevitably be reopened when Texas Democrats get together again in '62 and '64.

3. 1960 CENSUS reports confirmed predictions that Texas will be a metropolitan state in the sixties. Overall, population grew from 7,711,194 in 1950 to 9,579,677. Sixty per cent of the increase was in the four largest cities. In addition, in every growth area, cities increased their populations at the expense of surrounding rural counties. This did not alter the state total, but changed the make-up of population -- now 70 per cent urban, 30 per cent rural. Result will be a strong push for more urban representatiion in the legislature, more state level sympathy for city problems.

4. STATE FINANCE PROBL- EMS never were out of the news, as both public officials and private citizens circled the issue that will come to a boil in this year's legislative session. State Finance Advisory Commission, appointed by Governor Daniel in May, worked through the summer and fall. In December it recommended a one per cent payroll tax to raise the more than $100,000,000 a year the state is expected to need in new money. Meanwhile, meetings were held by practically everybody -- teachers, labor and business groups, all with a vital interest in future taxing and spending decisions.

5. AUTO INSURANCE RATES, under a new merit rating plan, have for good or ill stirred more commotion than a back - firing Model - T at a horse auction. Last Legislature turned down flexible rating and instructed Board of Insurance to consider safety incentives and driving records in setting statewide rates. Result was a plan, begun last January 1, basing auto insurance rates on the driver's arrest record for past three years, including traffic tickets as well as accidents. Drivers whose rates jumped because of minor violations were irate. Those spoteless records got lower rates and were generally happier. A number of lawmakers have promised to look into the matter thoroughly this year.

6. GAS TAX SUIT, begun in early 1960, probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year, gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead, the case will go to the Texas Supreme Court and U. S. Supreme Court. If the tax is upheld, future efforts to raise the rate are certain. If, as in the case of the gas gathering tax in 1953, it is held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, it is unlikely that even the most ardent gas tax advocates will try again to raise revenue by this route.

7. RACE FOR SPEAKER of the House, as tight and uncertain as in 1959, brought renewed suggestions that "there ought to be a better way." Whether Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen or Rep. James Turman of Gober wins in the secret ballot of House members on January 10, it will be several weeks before either can get committees organized and ready for business. To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for Speaker in 1963 already are jockeying for position. Some have suggested a constitutional amendment to permit representatives - elect to meet and elect a presiding officer a month or so before the session's actual opening. Another proposal is to let the people decide by making the post an elective one the same as in the Senate. Advantage besides letting the voters have a choice is the fact that the decision would be reached in November and the House could go to work immediately on the opening day of the session. Also it would eliminate all of the bitterness that is created under the present system.

8. TOURIST AND NEW INDUSTRY promotion got under way in 1960, despite penny - ante budgets. Highway Department brought out its first tourists' brochure, a 32 - page booklet in four colors. This year it will ask the Legislature for $300,000 to place advertisements in natonal publications. Texas Industrial Commission also produced a brochure, but says it cannot compete with other states on a $23,750 a year budget. It will ask the Legislature for $420,000 a year. Both the tourist and industry seeking agencies contend that Texas cannot achieve its growth potential in the sixties unless it goes in with six - figure budgets comparable to those of competing states.

9. TEXAS TIDELANDS ownership, a paramount issue in the forties and fifties, finally was laid to rest in June, 1960. U. S. Supreme Court, to the surprise of many, ruled that Texas owns the submerged lands 10½ miles out into the Gulf. If the land is as oil - rich as hoped and if there is a market for the oil, idelands revenue will augment the permanent school fund in the years ahead.

10. SENATOR JOHNSON's ELECTION as vice president opened he door for more lively politicking in 1961 to decide his Senate successor.

The more you drive this solid beauty, the more you'll appreciate its solid build!

'Most any brand new car hums a sweet tune. But after awhile the new-car aroma fades and you're on your second or third set of tires. And that's when you'll be glad you bought a Plymouth.

Its solid, one-piece Unibody is welded 5400 times to withstand the miles. And its unique anti-corrosion treatment holds off the ravages of slush, salt and sun.

Plymouth: good looking, low cost, built to be proud of for a long, long time.

Disabled Veterans, Widows Should List Annual Income

Approximately 49,970 disabled veterans and dependents of some 26,133 deceased veterans in Texas who receive monthly pension payments, are being reminded by the Veterans Administration to report their annual income promptly and avoid the risk of having their payments stopped.

P. J. Mims of the VA Regional Office at Waco said that VA is now mailing to all pension recipients a tabulating card upon which the income report may be made. Pensions cease under the old pension law if the income of a single individual exceeds $1400 or $2700 if the recipient has dependents.

Under the new law, Mims pointed out, pensions will cease if the income of a single individual exceeds $1890 or $3000 if the recipient has dependents. The amount of pension may be reduced if the recipient's annual income rises from one of the lower income brackets -- $600 and $1200 for a single veteran or widow without dependants and $1000 and $2000 for a veteran or a widow with dependents. Dependent parents who receive dependancy and indemnity compensation also receive income questionnaires and payments are similarily regulated by the amount of their income, Mims added. Reglations require payment to be stopped if the income report is not returned to the VA within 30 days.

No income questionnaire is sent to veterans or widows who are receiving service - connected benefits.

LITTLE COLONEL By Bob McKinley

"Blessed are they that mourn --- and it was that BIG!

I Give You Texas

Hollywood notes:

The most striking thing about a movie set is its make - believe -- that is, when you are a visitor in a studio.

The scene is, let us say, a library. There are only a few shelves -- just the area in the range of the camera; and even those shelves don't extend all the way to the ceiling, in fact there is no ceiling; and the stairway goes up to the first landing -- and ends.

Robert Montgomery was seated in such a library for the shooting of a scene in "Earl of Chicago". A makeup man had applied the last touches and then a voice -- that of a police inspector -- asked a series of questions, to which Montgomery replied and the work was over for the afternoon.

On another set, Lucille Ball, who then was not very famous, appeared in a scene with a veteran actor and he kept getting one of his lines transposed. Afttr four unsuccessful attempts, I left.

Really, seeing movie - making is disillusioning.

My first two nights in Los Angeles, I spent at the Hollywood-Roosevelt. My room was $8 a day -- quite a sum in 1939! Since the hotel was a long way from the M—G—M studios, I decided to move to Culver City and be close to my work on "Boom Town." (as technical advisor and writing consultant).

The leading hotel in Culver City was the Washington, very attractive and quiet. The manager himself escorted me to inspect the room, which I liked very much.

"How much is it?"

"Twelve dollars."

This rather took my breath but a little further discussion brought out that this was the rate per week!

I was only four or five blocks to M—G—M so I remained there until my work ended, four months later.

During that entire time I ran into only three persons whom I had known elsewhere. One was Qumansky, an excitable, voluble, friendly man who had directed the colorful square dance of 40 couples in "Last Frontier" in 1936 at the Fort Worth Centennial produced by Billy Rose.

Another was State Senator H. L. Winfield of Alpine.

The third, I had known when I was on the staff of the Memphis Commercial Appeal and he had been a substitute reporter. It was at night and he and his family were window - shopping. I do not recall that I have ever received a less enthusiastic reception -- no invitation to have lunch sometime or to phone him at the office nor even a question as to what I was doing. Living in a big city makes some people grow cold, suspicious, indifferent.

On the stage of a burlesque theatre not far from Los Angeles' "Skid Row" I saw a comedian. He was wearing the traditional baggy trousers, the loose coat with a king - sized safety pin in lieu of buttons, a battered hat, the over - size shoes and the grotesque makeup and he was hit with a slapstick and was tricked by a loaded cigar. So what? Just this — he was the father of the No. 1 box office star of the movies. He did not want a pension from his rich son; he did not seek to capitalize on the star's fame; no, the old burlesque comedian just wanted to go on performing and in the only way he knew; it was his life.

Some of the dramas of real life are more remarkable than the make - believe scripts.

Milam Gets Its Share of RR Tax Money

Texas railroads paid $41,726 in taxes in Milam county during 1959 according to the Texas Railroad Association .

That amount was the county's share of the nearly $10,000,000 the railroads paid throughout the state.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the railroads' approximately 40,000 Texas employees contributed on their own property. The vast majority of railroad workers, many of whom live in Milam county, own their own homes,

The largest railroad contribution in Milam county was for the support of education. The school tax for 1959 totaled $23,747.

City and village taxes amounted to $2,779 while the share of the county government's operating expenses paid for by the railroads totaled $9,326. The road and bridge fund gained $5,394 from the railroads in 1959. All other taxes brought the total for the county to $41,726.

"With the future of our country extend upon the education of our youth, I am glad to see that nearhalf of the taxes paid by the railroads in '59 a total of $4,565,103 went to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "Recognizing this need for education, many of our railroads also make scholarships available every year."

Report Indicates Possible Influence On Price Of Eggs

Supply and demand are still the major determing factors in egg prices. Until recently, points out F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, the high and low point in egg supply has covered about three years. But, he adds, with the continued growth of large commercial shell egg production, supply has become more uniform throughout the year and the length of the cycle definitely influenced.

This latter situation insures consumers of a uniform supply of high quality eggs and has lessened the need for large storage stocks for use during periods of low production.

Beanblossom says there will be fewer layers on the farms of the nation during the first half of 1961 compared with the same period in 1960. Because of the reduced number of hens, production also is likely to be lower. This smaller output is expected to influence prices and also the size of the hatch for replacement pullets. But, by the last quarter of 1961, the number of layers on farms is expected to exceed the number for 1960.
